M'ALPINE WILL BUILD STERLING POST OFFICE

Dixon Contractor Is Awarded Contract by the Government, the Figure Being $33,520

WILL BE COMPLETED SEPT 1, '05

Government May Increase Cost by Adding Terra Cotta Trimmings

Contractor W. J. McAlpine of this city has been awarded the contract to build the new government building for Sterling. Notice of the awarding of the contract was received by Postmaster Dillon this morning.

The contract price is $33,520 and the stipulation is that the building must be completed by September 1, 1905. Mr. McAlpine will have to give a bond for $15,000 to complete the work by that time.

The government reserves the right to put on terra-cotta corners and balustrade, adding $1,720 to the contract price, providing notice is given the contractor before March 1, 1905. It is expected that work will begin very soon. We assure Sterling that she will have a good building with Mr. McAlpine as builder.

SERVICES AT ASSEMBLY

Were Held by Rev. J. M. Ericsson at Choir Camp Yesterday.

Quite a large number attended the services at St. Luke's choir camp Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The rector, the Rev. John Mark Ericsson, gave an eloquent address upon the lessons to be found in the eighth chapter of St. Mark—the miracle of Christ feeding the multitude with the loaves and fishes. The members of the choir sang the usual hymns and selections, the tenor solo in the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord, being given by Fred Hammarstrom.

BROKE CAMP TODAY.

The choir camp was broken up this morning, those attending returning to their homes after a pleasant week's vacation.

ARRESTED AS A DESERTER

Rockford Boy Overstaid Leave of Absence—Parents Ill.

Emil N. Eklund, of Rockford who overstaid his leave of absence from a United States recruiting ship, has been arrested as a deserter and is now held.

He is a son of A. E. Eklund, of that city and an effort is being made to secure his discharge. His father is old and infirm and his mother is in poor health, and as Eklund is their only son they want him with them. Influential Rockfordites are interested in the lad's behalf and he may be released.

The property brought $1,211, and was bought by Mrs. Mary Coglein.

The Thompson property located on the Grand Detour road sold Saturday for $2,500. It was bought by Charles Walker.

BOY BITTEN BY DOG

John Myers Received Deep Wound in Arm This Morning.

John Edward, the thirteen-year old son Mr. and Mrs. John F. Myers, living east of this city, was severely bitten this morning by a dog belonging to John Collins. The boy was playing with the Collins boy when the mother of the latter told her son to take some water to their St. Bernard dog which was chained nearby. The boys obtained the water and went to the dog, young Myers stooping down to pat him on the head. The animal sprang at him and sunk his jaws into the biceps muscles of his right arm inflicting a deep wound and tearing the flesh. Mrs. Collins saw the incident and called to the dog, the boy at the same time managing to break away.

The wound was immediately washed with a solution of carbolic acid and the boy was brought to the office of Dr. Sickels by John Coffey. Dr. Sickels cauterized the wound.

FIND TWO SKULLS

With Teeth and Bones Together with Pottery in Mound Made by Aborigines.

INDIAN GRAVES ARE UNEARTHED

At E. W. Smith's Farm West of Dixon About Three Miles.

Last Saturday is making an excavation for a cottage at the E. W. Smith farm which is west of Dixon about three miles, the graves of two Indians were discovered. An Indian mound was being leveled off when the graves were found. The skull and teeth of two Indians were found besides many bones. It appears that the graves were those of an old and a young man for the teeth of one were smooth and regular while the other were jagged and rough. In the graves a great many pieces of pottery were found but these crumbled to pieces as soon as they were touched, yet the bones and teeth are still hard and can be handled.

This mound has been dug into by students many times, but besides a few arrow heads nothing of special importance has ever before been found. Besides the pottery there were several arrow heads found Saturday in the graves together with many cross bones and the skulls. These are in such a good condition that it will be possible to have the teeth set in proper manner in the skulls, accordingly it will be possible to get some idea of the physiognomy of the two original settlers.

CUT BY A HAY FORK

Rich Ogle County Farmer Dies From Loss of Blood.

Clancey DeGrave, living one and one-half miles west of Adeline, Ogle county, met with a fatal accident Friday evening at 5 o'clock. He was unloading hay into a hay loft, when the rope slipped and the hay fork fell down, one of the prongs sticking him in the leg and cutting open a main artery. He died the same night at 10 o'clock from loss of blood.

Mr. DeGrave was a bachelor and was 44 years old. He was worth about $25,000. The funeral will be held on Tuesday.

BROKEN WHEEL AT NACHUSA

Caused a Wreck Which Blocked C. & N. W. Tracks Several Hours.

A broken wheel on a car in a west-bound freight caused a wreck at Nachusa Saturday night about 12 o'clock which resulted in blocking both the east and west-bound tracks of the C. & N. W. for several hours. The break threw off the trucks of the car and before the train could be stopped several cars had been derailed and both tracks were blocked. The Clinton steam wrecker was called to the scene and the tracks were cleared by daylight. The wreck was a fortunate one in that it did not occur a few moments later, as another train had just entered the same block on the other track.

—Hon. S. H. Bethea was out from Chicago and spent Saturday at his farm northwest of this city.

Kingsbury, Devonshire, England, July 18.—In the inquest over the remains of Frederick Kent Loomis the jury found he was found dead in Bigbury Bay, but no evidence is given to show how he met death.

Loomis was the brother of the American assistant secretary of state and disappeared from the Kaiser Wilhelm II. The body was identified by valuables and papers found in the clothes. There was also a quantity of money. He was on his way to Abyssinia. It is supposed that he fell overboard.

WILL LECTURE IN DIXON

Valuable Course on Eastern War in Series Next Fall.

Last week's Chicago papers gave considerable space in reports and editorial comment concerning a remarkable course of lectures on "The Russo-Japanese Contention" now being given to the students of the University of Chicago. These lectures were by Dr. Toyokichi Iyenaga, associate professor of political science at the University and a brilliant Japanese scholar, orator and traveler.

The very favorable comment of some of these papers show a high appreciation of the fine work Dr. Iyenaga is doing in giving accurate information upon one of the most vital questions of the century. All this has a peculiar interest of Dixon because Dr. Iyenaga is to give a course of lecture here early in the fall on "The Far East," under the auspices of the Lee County Lecture Association. The sale of tickets is in the hand of Professors H. V. Baldwin and Geo. Tidd.

Insult to Injury.

The telephone bell in the editorial sanctum rang this morning and a cheerful voice said: "This is Rodney did you get your coal?" We were hot before, but this was too much. No we didn't get any coal; this is not the day we use coal. "O, I thought this was No. 35," said the coal man, and he backed out.

QUALITY IS OUR WATCHWORD

For six years we have steadfastly adhered to the idea which guides us at the first of our business career. We have been fighting the battle of Quality against Cheapness. How well we have succeeded is best shown in the PRE-EMINENT position OUR work holds in the mind of those who seek THE VERY BEST. Today the name of "City Steam Laundry" stands for all that is best in the Laundry industry and nothing could induce us to change the policy to which we are at the present time. The price may be up or down, but the standard of quality is NEVER lessened—we better it when we can. By these methods we hope to enlist your interest and gain your confidence and patronage.

Arbitration Should Be Prompted by Justice And Humanity

ARBITRATION is not altogether commendable for the powerful. There is no particular credit resorting to arbitration WHEN BOTH PARTIES ARE AFRAID OR EQUALLY MATCHED and fearing that their countries may be overrun, devastated or impoverished.

THE MOST COMMENDABLE THEORY OF ARBITRATION IS THAT OF THE HIGH SENSE OF HONOR AND JUSTICE AND HUMANITY.

It is far more commendable for a powerful nation to lay aside for the time being its great power and influence and say to the weak, the helpless, We will adjust our differences AS BETWEEN MEN, and we will be governed by a high sense of honor and justice. That is commendable, that is grand and glorious, and I trust that not only this proposed arbitration treaty with Great Britain that is being advanced and urged will be adopted, but I trust it will be the stepping stone, the example, to ALL NATIONS of the world to mite in a better consideration and a better understanding and a better settlement of the differences that divide them. MEN are accustomed to resort to the civil courts or courts of arbitration to settle their differences.

WHY SHOULD NOT GOVERNMENTS, THAT ARE THE CREATION, THE TOLERATION OF MEN, BE GOVERNED BY THE SAME RULE, MORE OR LESS, THAT GOVERNS INDIVIDUALS?

Highest Types of American Life

By HAMILTON W. MABIE, Editor and Essayist

WHOM would we name, is asked, to give the HIGHEST types of American life? Not the great leaders of commercial life, but the PIONEERS of the west, men of the old south, sturdy New Englanders. Our idealism would not pick THE GREAT INDUSTRIAL CENTERS of our country as the things to be most proud of, but would name Niagara falls, the Yosemite valley, the Yellowstone park. We are idealists.

Many Millions Earn Wages.

A special report of the census bureau on occupations shows that in continental United States the total number of persons engaged in gainful occupations in 1900 was 29,073,232, which was one-half of the population, 10 years of age and over, and nearly two-fifths of the entire population. The total number comprises 22,489,425 men, 4,833,630 women, and 1,750,630 children, of whom 1,294,411 were boys and 185,767 girls.

—A Chicago club woman recently gave to her club the following motto which is good enough to hang up anywhere. "There is so much that is bad in the best of us, and so much that is good in the worst of us that it doesn't behoove any of us to say anything about the rest of us."

—An old white oak tree on a farm near Waterloo, Ill., is being chopped down and will be exhibited at the world's fair. It is said to be the largest tree in Illinois. It is 95 feet high, 8 feet in diameter near the ground, 3 feet thick, 60 feet up, where shoots first branch. It is estimated that there was enough wood in the tree to make 40 farm wagons. But what was the use of cutting it down!

Just a Hint.

A Helping Hand.

Pretty Bedspread.

An extremely pretty bedspread is made by taking a new linen sheet and with a dinner plate and small dessert plate or saucer marked intersected circles with a hard lead pencil at regular intervals over the spread. When this is done the foundation lines are made for a pretty design of wreaths, on which it is easy to draw flowers or leaves. One wreath of wild roses on another of daisies has a good effect. The smaller circle of green leaves and the larger of any simple flower is a good idea. When the flowers have been sketched, stain them the color desired with a fast dye. There are several dyes that will stand careful washing—violet ink or red ink, for instance. After the designs have been sketched outline them with single zephyr worsted, which washes admirably. Wash silk is pretty and dainty, but it is not so effective and takes more time. The easiest outline stitch is to sew around the design with simple running stitch and then, going over it again, catch each stitch in over and over fashion. This gives a rope effect which looks well.

Hard Gingerbread.

Warm one pint of molasses and melt in it one cupful of lard or lard and butter mixed. Add one scant teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of ginger, one of soda. Let cool, add one cupful of cold water and sufficient flour to roll out. Cut in strips and bake in a quick oven.

Conveniences For the Gas Stove.

Conveniences in connection with gas stove cookery are sets of kettles made in sections, pie fashion, so that three or four kinds of food can be cooked at the same time over one ring burner; a triangular dome, also a burnished plate on which a number of irons can be heated at once; a broiler in which both sides of a steak are cooked at the same time.

Sunburn From Sea Bathing.

The sunburn that is acquired from sea bathing is as painful and serious as any such affliction can be. A physician says it is a mistake to use for this or any burn from the sun's rays creams and oils. Much better is a free application of witch hazel, which not only heals but hardens the skin, and thus acts as both curative and preventive.

Faded by Sunlight.

Sometimes the woodwork in a place of furniture which has stood in the sunshine or heat of a register looks dry, faded and full of fine lines. Rub into it pure boiled linseed oil. Several oilings with hard rubbing may be required to bring back the color and polish.

Cobwebs.

People who bury the hatchet usually manage to keep the grave green.

A gentleman is one who is willing to concede something to his neighbor.

Cupid's arrows would doubtless be surer the mark if they were all tipped with gold.

A man never has enough money until he is able to indulge his fads without being called a fool.

The road that is paved with good intentions generally has a disinterested friend at every corner.

We often charge our adversities to the hard luck account, while the successes are owing to genius and undying perseverance.

His Lordship And "My Lady"

By Epes Winthrop Sargent

Copyright, 1904, by E. W. Sargent

His lordship was a good sort in his way. He was great at golf, could ride and knew how to handle a yacht, and he was not one of the sort that comes over here merely to marry the richest girl who is willing to have him.

"My Lady" is Grace Ormonde. I don't know who first called her that, but she had all the airs and graces of the lady of the manor. All of us called her "My Lady," but the possessive case appealed particularly to me. I wanted to make her "My Lady" in fact, as in truth she had been ever since the day when as a boy in my first long trousers I awoke to a realization that Grace was the nicest girl I knew.

Every one used to laugh at us when we both were children because old Mrs. Ormonde, Grace's grandmother, approved the match. As the old lady had the money, the rest all approved of what she approved. Then she went away. Just about that time the poor old pater lost his money in the Nineteenth National crash, and Mr. Ormonde had a little chat with me about what he called our "childish infatuation."

He was proud, he said, to know that his old friend (that was poor dad) was willing to sacrifice his private fortune because the bank had been wrecked while he was its president. But I must see that it was impossible that—

I assured him that I did see before he had had a chance to find a nice sounding word to replace the "er," and I went down to the bank and rode home with dad, prouder than ever that he hadn't made money his fetish.

After that it was hard sledding for Grace and me for awhile. Of course

ALL OF A SUDDEN I REALIZED WHAT I HAD DONE.

we saw a lot of each other, but only at balls and things like that, fussy affairs where we couldn't steal off to the conservatory that Mrs. Ormonde didn't send a chap after us to tell "My Lady" that it was too damp and that she was to come right into the drawing room.

Then I had a chance to make some money. Poor father did not long survive the bank crash. He wasn't responsible, but somehow he seemed to feel that it was a disgrace. Mother had some money, and I got a chance, with Bert Taylor, on a patent that in a few years will make us more than merely rich. It was hard work at first, but we hustled like ten dollar a week men, and now we are pretty well along.

As soon as I could see things clear I put my pride in my pocket and went to old man Ormonde. I told him that I was going to make a pile for myself and asked him if he would hold the other fellows off for a couple of years.

He was awfully nice about it, with that greasy kind of niceness that keeps you from kicking a man when you want to most. He reeled out a lot of talk about his duty toward his daughter (as though her happiness should not be the first consideration) and explained that a gentleman he had met in England was just then on his way to press his suit. From the way he rolled the name, Lord Lancaster, under his tongue I could see it was the title he was after. I went out of the room with black rage in my heart and the bitter memory of things I had said to a man old enough to be my father.

If there ever was a man I wanted to hate—after Ormonde, of course—it was Lancaster. But after I had met him I simply couldn't. He was one of those clean built, hearty English chaps in whom good breeding is a habit and cordiality a second nature.

Even "My Lady" liked him, though she knew why he had come. Lancaster had been attracted by her picture when he had seen it on the old man's dressing table at some house party in England. When he saw her in all her girlish charm, he was determined to marry her.

The formal announcement was to be made at the end of the Newport season. Then the Ormondes issued cards for a dinner to celebrate their victory over a woman's heart. It was to be a big event, and I was among the very few not invited either to the dinner or to the ball to follow.

I met "My Lady" down on the rocks the afternoon of the dinner. There was a little nook far up the beach where we were free from interruption. It was a nasty afternoon, one of those late September days when the mist and sky and sea blend into one mass of gray as though the whole world were wrapped in melancholy.

We sat silent for a long time, "My Lady" and I, when who should come along the beach but his lordship. "My Lady" had been crying and Lancaster was up in arms on the instant. He was not a very quick thinker in some ways, and he got an idea that I was responsible for the tears. That made me lose my head, and before I knew what I was doing I had let the whole truth out.

I didn't mince my words. They just came out in a torrent, and I am afraid that I was pretty plain spoken. I shouldn't have blamed him if he had knocked me down. Instead, he simply stood there, his fine face growing as gray as the mist that veiled the sea. All of a sudden I realized what I had done and turned silent as suddenly as I had commenced.

His lordship made no answer to me, but turned to "My Lady."

"Is this true, Miss Ormonde?" he asked gently.

"My Lady" was crying harder than ever now, but she bowed her head. He took her hand. "Believe me," he said, "I had no idea. Your father assured me that there were no entanglements and that you really loved me. It is unfortunate that I should have fallen so deeply in love with you before I discovered the truth; still, I do not know that I am altogether sorry. It has been a fool's paradise, perhaps, but it is well to have loved one so well worthy of being loved."

"As for you," he turned to me, "I can only say that I like a game man—and you were game. For the rest—he shrugged his shoulders—"if you anticipate trouble with Mr. Ormonde, there is my yacht. If there are any complications about license in this state the sailing master will take you out beyond the three mile limit, and Bronson, whom you'll probably find in my den, is a regularly ordained Church of England minister."

He walked down to the landing place to see us off and give his orders to the sailing master. He shook hands with me, then turned and kissed "My Lady" full on the lips.

"God bless you," he said, "and make you happy." Then he turned on his heel and strode off toward the house.

It was he who made the announcement of our marriage to the dinner guests. It was the bravest thing I ever heard of, but blood will tell, and his ancestors fought for the Stuarts.

The Fan in Egypt

In Egypt the fan was not only an emblem of royalty, but also of happiness and heavenly rest. The oldest Egyptian fan now extant is preserved in the museum of Bulak and is said to have belonged to the Queen Aah-Hotep and is consequently nearly thirty-five centuries old. The crown and wooden handle of this curiosity are covered with thin plates of gold, and all around the former at equal intervals are small holes, in which the nodding ostrich plumes were once inserted.

A long handled screen fan is represented in the triumph of King Horus (1400 B. C.), and the wall paintings at Medinah Habon show that Rameses was attended by twenty-three princesses, each bearing an elegant screen fan and rejoicing in the sounding title of "fan bearer on the left hand of the king." Fans were also used in Egypt for religious ceremonies, for Isis priests held long handled fans made of the wings of a bird and somewhat resembling the Greek caduceus. From Egypt and the far east fans soon found their way into Greece, where the first specimens assumed the shape of acacia, plantain or lotus leaves, but in later years the ladies showed a marked preference for gorgeous peacock feather fans.

Sea Level

The waters of the various oceans are not all on a level with each other. Water in the bay of Bengal is 300 feet above the Indian ocean level, and that of the Pacific along the coast of South America is heaped as high as a thousand feet or more above the waters in the opposite Atlantic. These elevations depend on the attractions of great mountain masses—the bay of Bengal on the Himalayas and the South Pacific on the Andes.

HOLD-UPS GOT LITTLE

Not Known to Have Robbed the Express Company of More Than $28—0.25 Suspect Arrested.

Houston, Tex., July 18.—One arrest has been made in connection with the hold-up of the International and Great Northern train at Speers late Friday night. This suspect, whose name is not known, declares his innocence. Sheriff Watts, of Anderson county, and a posse is at work tracking the bandits. Ranger Captain McClelland got orders to proceed to the scene and has arrived at Oakwoods.

It is officially reported that the bandits, of whom there were four according to the best information, entered the express car after blowing open the door with dynamite and took therefrom four packages, one containing $21, another $7, a third not known to contain money and a package of railroad tickets. Fireman Roy Milton, who was hurt in jumping from his engine, is not seriously injured.

FOUR MEN IN THE TUNNEL

And a Great Fire Blazing at Its Mouth—Tunnel Timbers Likely to Catch Fire.

Oreville, Cal., July 18.—Fire at the Bell view mine near Laporte destroyed the mill, engine room and other buildings close to the mouth of the big tunnel. A huge pile of lumber lay close to the mouth of the tunnel, and this caught fire. Four men were working in the tunnel when the fire broke out and fears are entertained for their safety.

The tunnel is strongly timbered, and it is thought these timbers will catch fire from the fire on the surface. The men in the tunnel are: L. Byrnes, Morgan Bean, D. McDonald and Bert Cumley.

COLOR LINE AT THE FAIR

Gets the Man Into Trouble, Who First Ran Up Against It, So It Seems.

St. Louis, July 18.—Because of the slur placed on the Eighth Illinois infantry, Chicago regiment of the Illinois National Guard, Lieutenant C. Sidney Haight, of the Fourteenth United States cavalry, has tendered his resignation as military aide to President Francis and director of the military camps at the exposition.

An effort was made to assign the negro regiment to a remote part of the grounds, and the regiment, affronted, gave up its visit to the fair. The war department is said to have prompted Lieutenant Haight's action.

CORK LEG DROWNS A MAN

Cannot Control His Own Movements Because of It While Trying to Rescue His Boy.

Toledo, O., July 18.—Henry Yetter and his son Arthur, aged 10, were drowned in the canal near Grand Rapids, O. The boy was seized with cramps while bathing, and the father jumped in to save him.

The father had a cork leg, and this proved such an impediment that he was unable to control his own movements, and both were drowned. The father's body was recovered nearly a mile below the scene of the drowning, where it had floated head downward.

Did Not Talk of Tom Taggart

Esopus, N. Y., July 18.—Judge Parker's second Sunday since his nomination was spent quietly. He had a conference with John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, who was his guest, and others. The question of who is to be chairman of the national committee was not considered. That question will be discussed at the conference of leaders which is to take place in New York today. Kern said he was not here on national chairmanship business at all or in Taggart's interest.

STRIKE PROMISES TO BE GIGANTIC

Violence Appears at Various Places Men Being Armed.

END OF NEGOTIATIONS

No Signs of a Settlement of the Strike in the Great Packing Houses.

HITCH THAT IS NOT REMOVED

Packers Decline to Discharge the new Men to Make Places for the Old—Trouble at St. Paul and Chicago.

Chicago, July 18.—All chance of peace in the packers' strike has vanished for the time being, at least. The end of negotiations came after a long conference between three officials of the strikers and a number of packers. The final break resulted when the union officials insisted that all the men who had gone out on strike be taken back and given their old places. The packers declared that this would necessitate the discharge of all the men they had employed since the commencement of the strike, and that they could not and would not consider it. The conference then broke up and the strike will continue.

Only One Question at Issue

The question of taking back the strikers was the only one upon which the parties could not agree, the strikers' committee having waived all the other points formerly at issue. The packers declined to fix a time at which all the old men should be given work, standing firmly by the proposition that they should have work as places were vacated or additional men wanted. This would have kept large numbers of the strikers out of work indefinitely and the strikers' committee refused to accept the proposition.

More Work Done at the Yards

Working conditions at the local yards were improved further. Over 200 more were put at work and distributed through the various plants. At Armour's plant over 1,000 hogs and nearly 400 cattle were slaughtered. At Morris & Co.'s twenty-five butchers were at work than the day before, and 450 hogs were killed during the day. At Swift's the operations were increased considerably. L. F. Swift said: "The local market has suffered nothing because of this strike. Thus far the country at large is being supplied with all the meat it needs. With a few exceptions the prices remain just as they were before the strike."

New Danger for the Strikers

A danger that confronts the strikers became apparent when they learned that over 200 Polish butchers have deserted them since the strike began.

MOB ATTACKS FOUR NEGROES

Result Is That Seven Persons Are Hurt, Some Slightly Included.

Chicago, July 18.—In an attack on four colored men, who are working in the stock yards, by a mob composed of spectators at an amateur base ball game in the vicinity of the yards two white men, one policeman and the four negroes were severely injured. Revolvers and knives were used and three of the injured men are in a serious condition.

The injured are: William Durand, shot in jaw and neck, serious; James Kiely, stabbed on left side, near heart, may die; Policeman J. W. Sweeney, struck in head and back by bricks while trying to quell the disturbance; John Hunter, face and neck slashed with knife, severely beaten about body; Grant Baker, cut about face and head; Samuel Wood, cut with knife and beaten about body and face, serious—these three were the negro stock yards employees; William Riley, face cut and body bruised.

After finishing their day's work at Schwarzschild & Sulzberger's plant the four colored men on their way home had to pass the grounds where an amateur base ball game was in progress. There were fully 1,000 present and somebody yelled "scabs." That was all that was needed and a rush was made for the four men. Wood drew a revolver too late to stand off the mob, which knocked him down and began jumping on him. He fired and hit Durand, one of the mob. Baker was knocked down, but drew a knife, scrambled to his feet and stabbed Kiely.

This defiance against mob law still further infuriated the mob and the police had trouble protecting the mob's victims from being lynched. All of the four were beaten into insensibility before the police could rescue them. Two of the men attacked—Wood and Baker—were put under arrest. It is said that some of the rioters were also arrested.

STRIKE IS TO BE GIGANTIC

No Riots Are to Occur—So Promises President Donnelly.

St. Louis, July 18.—Michael Donnally, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, addressed a mass meeting of strikers in East St. Louis city hall. He spoke in part as follows: "We shall never again enter into arbitration unless every man, woman and child who has been discharged or who is out on strike has been returned to their former position without prejudice. This strike is only in its infancy. It will be the most gigantic in the history of the country since the coal strike. The meat strike affects every workman. It enters into the personal life of every house, for meat is an absolute necessity. "No riot shall take place in Chicago or any other packing center, and the union officials and the men must see to this even if they have to stand insult to avoid it. There were no riots as reported in Chicago and South St. Paul, merely brawls between our own men."

"We have had the representatives of the trades unions who are employed at the packing houses say to us: 'We are at your command.' Whenever we say that they shall come out they will march out to a man. This strike will never be forgotten. It will prove one of the greatest educators in the history of the country. It will illustrate the pre-eminent standing of the brotherhood of man."

"Should a sympathetic strike be called it will include the union men in every division of employment in the packing houses. This will include the firemen, engineers, electrical workers, carpenters, plumbers, painters, cooper, steamfitters, drivers and railroad men. The latter will refuse to handle goods consigned to and from the packing houses. This call will not be made until it is deemed necessary to win, but when it is made I have been assured that all will come out."

VIOLENCE AT ST. PAUL

Strikers Attack the Sheriff and He Reads Them a Lecture.

St. Paul, July 18.—The first clash between the sheriff's force and the striking butchers of Swift & Co.'s plant at South St. Paul occurred when a spirited and successful effort was made by the company, assisted by Sheriff Grism and deputies, to force about twenty-five men through a big crowd of strikers who were congregated about the entrance to the packing house yards. A severe hand-to-hand encounter ensued and several on both sides were badly bruised. One of the strikers, J. K. Banks, marshal of the striking pickets, was arrested and fined $25.

The clash happened after Sheriff Grism had held a conference with Governor Van Sant on the strike situation, during which the governor had instructed Sheriff Grism to use his utmost endeavors to disperse the large gathering of strikers who since the strike began have congregated about the entrance to the packing house yards and prevented all persons from going inside. The sheriff accordingly undertook to escort the new men into the works, accompanied by Manager Tuffie.

The strikers lined up at once and resisted the sheriff, and Banks attacked Tuffie, throwing him to the ground and pummeling him. The sheriff rescued him and arrested Banks. The twenty-five new men got through. After the fight the sheriff called the pickets together and told them that a state of riot existed, and that if it did not cease he would have to call for the militia; that the strikers had no right to interfere with access to the plant in any way, and must stop it; that he had arrested one of the strikers, but had procured him a "nice easy" fine, but that the trouble must cease. The strikers argued the case and insisted that the law was being observed, and as soon as the sheriff left proceeded to again put the works in a state of siege.

Violence at Kansas City

Kansas City, July 18.—A disturbance in which stones and fists figured took place as a number of non-union Greek laborers were leaving the Armour and Fowler plants for their homes. The Greeks met a crowd of strikers who attempted to persuade them to quit work. An argument arose which resulted in a fight, a number of stones having been thrown. When the police hurried to the scene of the trouble the crowd dispersed, running in every direction. All the plants here are increasing their forces and doing more work every day.

A Stanley Story

Stanley used to relate the following funny story: One day while he was conversing with a friendly tribe during his travels one of the chiefs present inquired how many wives he possessed. Upon Stanley replying that he had none, all those present stood up like one man and unanimously exclaimed, "What a splendid liar!" They intensely admired the apparent calmness with which he had, as they thought, tried to pass off on them a wondrous traveler's tale.

MUSHROOM VICTIMS

Two Are Dead and Four Others Are Likely to Follow to the Grave.

TOADSTOOL DOES FATAL WORK

Flying Bat Kills a Boy at a Ball Game—Strikers Acting as Deputies—Prairie State News.

Carbondale, Ill., July 18.—Two dead and four fatally at poisoned Jeffrey, Ill., is the result of mistaking toadstools for mushrooms. Jeffrey is a small mining town between Johnson City and Herrin. G. B. Greenfield gathered what he believed to be mushrooms. He asked the Fry family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Fry and three children, to supper that evening. All ate of the supposed mushrooms except Mrs. Greenfield and two of the Fry children. Soon after a physician was called and found that the fungi eaten was of the most poisonous kind. Greenfield and John Fry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fry, died about midnight. Two of Greenfield's children are probably fatally poisoned; also Mrs. Fry and another child.

Victim of the Devil Wagon

Chicago, July 18.—Thrown from her seat in a collision at Michigan avenue and Twelfth street, Miss H. W. Taplin, of Fairbury, Ill., sustained injuries that made her unconscious and necessitated her removal to a hotel near by. Miss Taplin was driving with a gentleman friend when an auto collided with the carriage, wrecking it and throwing both occupants to the pavement.

Death at a Ball Game

Bloomington, Ill., July 18.—Frank Knoblauch, aged 10 years, was almost instantly killed at Metamora. He was acting as water boy in a ball game between Metamora and Richmond, and was standing with a bucket in his hand along the right foul line when one of the Richmond players let a bat slip. It struck young Knoblauch in the head and his skull was crushed.

STRIKE LEADERS AS DEPUTIES

Sheriff at Belleville Appoints Twenty-Five of Them at the East St. Louis Packing Houses.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 18.—Sheriff Thompson, of Belleville, Ill., has deputized twenty-five strike leaders to keep the peace in the district surrounding the packing houses in East St. Louis, where strikes have occurred. Three hundred men have been smuggled into the plants on the east side without the knowledge of the pickets, who surround the entrance to the packing houses. In addition the office men and foremen are doing the work of the strikers there and several hundred young men have been hired to take their places in the offices temporarily. Thirty men from a St. Louis labor agency, engaged to work in East St. Louis packing plants, were stopped in a car at First street and Scanlan avenue. Three of the number, armed with revolvers, who were acting as guards for the others, were arrested and locked up by the St. Louis police, charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Seventh Now at Camp Lincoln

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—The Seventh regiment, I. N. G., arrived at Camp Lincoln a few hours after "The Dandy First" had left for the Louisiana Purchase exposition. Along with the Seventh came a torrid wave that has brought keen discomfort here. More than 800 men are in camp. Most of them will go to St. Louis next Saturday to spend a week in camp on the exposition grounds.

Trouble Ahead for Zeigler

West Frankfort, Ill., July 18.—The first clash in the strike at Zeigler, the mining town controlled by Joseph Leiter, has taken place. One of the guards brought from Chicago shot at a striker, but did not hit him. Feeling is running high against the guards, and trouble is expected. The guard was arrested and placed under $500 bonds for appearance before the court.

One Jury Had Convicted Him

Chicago, July 18.—William E. Campbell, colored, who was convicted three months ago of the murder of Artilla Sims, also colored, has been acquitted after a second trial, the evidence of his innocence being so overwhelming in his favor that Judge Honore took the case from the jury and discharged the defendant.

Resigns for Business Reasons

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—Governor Yates has accepted the resignation of F. W. Menke, of Quincy, as trustee of the Central Hospital for the Insane at Jacksonville. Menke, who has been in ill-health for some time, resigns because of business reasons.

Appointed by Governor Yates

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—Governor Yates has appointed George Reich, of Chicago, assistant superintendent of the north side employment bureau in Chicago.

Different Meanings

"Arrah, you're lookin' very sad," said Pat O'Hollahan, addressing his friend Denis the other day. "O! feel sad," responded Denis. "O! I've lost my mother-in-law! O! tell you it's hard to lose your mother-in-law!" "Hard!" exclaimed Pat. "B'gorrah, it's almost impossible!"

Dixon Has to Bow to the Inevitable--Scores of Citizens Prove It.

After the reader has read the public statement of this representative citizen of Dixon given below, he must fairly, squarely and honestly come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the party in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work under similar circumstances. Read this:

Mrs. L. Sindlinger of 220 West Chamberlain street, North Dixon, says: "In the fall of 1897 when asked to express my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills sold at Leake Bros' drug store I told my interviewer that the treatment had cured me of backache, which had clung to me so persistently that it became a positive annoyance. I can add to that statement made over three years ago this fact; during the period which elapsed I have had no occasion to use either Doan's Kidney Pills or any other medicine for my kidneys. I just as cheerfully re-endorse the preparation today as I endorsed it when it first came to my notice."

THIRTEEN.

Some one who thinks he is an adept at statistics, contributes figures to show that the "silly superstition" attaching to the number thirteen finds no justification in the records of the civil war. "It is in evidence just now in the tiresome clatter about the Republican convention being the thirteenth in the history of the organization." The war records show, according to curious deductions, that the total loss of the thirty-one regiments and batteries bearing the designation thirteen was 5,504, that of the same number of regiments and batteries numbered twelve was 6,775, while that of those numbered fourteen was 7,079. Not a regiment or battery bearing the number thirteen had any special ill, luck, while most of them escaped with small loss.

We believe that the Thirteenth Illinois Infantry that was raised in this section of the state and mustered in at Dixon, though in many hard fights, was not unlucky in its losses by death as compared with other regiments.

DEMOCRACY REVOLTS.

The following is a bit of English wit and we print it because the joke is on Senator Smith, of Kansas, who is a son of a former well known Illinois politician—"Kewawnee" Smith. The senator married a Dixon girl, Miss Florence Eustace. Senator Smith is one of the most able lawyers and brilliant speakers that annoy the Populists of Kansas, hence these remarks from the Toronto, Canada, Globe of a recent date:

There are some things the state of Kansas will welcome, and these include Mr. Bryan and Carrie Nation. There are things toward which Kansas is indifferent, and other things which she is willing to tolerate. But there is one thing which even the patient Prohibition community of the free silver and short grass state will not endure—they will not tolerate the monacle in high places. Senator Smith of that State has outraged its Democratic traditions by looking at his constituents through a single lense held between the side of his nose and his contracted eyebrow. Lured on to such recklessness by the magnanimous toleration with which they gazed on his bifurcate signature, "F. Dumont Smith," he took the step which has loosened the floodgates of public anger and resentment. That round, glittering eyeglass cries for vengeance, and nothing but political death can appease the wrath of the populace or wipe out the deep stain of the insult they have suffered. The Kansas ideal aid to vision is a pair of spectacles with blue steel frames. Silver steel, silver, or even oreide, will be tolerated, and there is but little objection to having the frames curve down behind the ears. They will even give the endorsement of silence to a pair of glasses that cling to their proprietor's nose. The people are observant of such things, but broadly tolerant. Yet there are some impositions on their magnanimity which make them realize that the bounds of patience have been stretched to the breaking point, and forbearance is no longer a virtue. The monacle must be avenged.

Senator Smith has an evil record in the matter of innovation. Parting his name in the middle was rather serious, but as it was not followed by the introduction of a hyphen there were no protests. On one occasion he cast a reflection on the short grass which has given the State its pet name by seeding his prospective lawn with the blue grass of Kentucky. The people wisely left that innovation in the hands of Providence, and when Senator Smith beheld the last sickly blade withering in the rays of the July sun he saw, if he did not repent of, his folly. The attempt was forgiven, though not forgotten, and now it is revived with the persistence of an old, suspended sentence in a criminal court. The Senator has offered explanations and apologies.

He says he has worn the monacle for six months, but the plea of established usage will not be entertained. He protests that for years only one of his eyes has been of service to him, and that there is absolutely no need for him to wear two glasses. This is regarded as a mere subterfuge, for the impression is abroad that he secretly cherishes the hope that every cow-puncher in the short grass country will be wearing a monacle in imitation of his remarkable departure. He has not entirely abandoned the diplomacy of the politician, as he first mounted the monacle in Chicago, and allowed the news to reach his own state by various unauthorized channels. Then he moved with his monacle to Topeka, that the disrupting news might be proclaimed by eye-witnesses. It is thought that the violence of the storm may lead him to see the error of his ways and declares the affair a joke or the fabrication of his political enemies. But the real voice of Kansas declares that it is now too late even for repentance, and that when F. Dumont Smith seeks election in November the State will give him the glassy eye.

MORRISON MAN DROWNED

Lost Life by Diving Into Deep Pool Near Fulton.

The "bottomless hole," located a mile or so east of Fulton on the line of the Northwestern, has claimed its second victim. Justin J. Snyder of Morrison, son of the late ex-Senator Snyder of Fulton, and brother of J. C. Snyder of that city, was drowned in the deep pool shortly before the midnight hour, Friday night, and his body was recovered at 10:30 o'clock Saturday. The unfortunate man made his home in Morrison, where he was associated in the saloon business with Cas Nickelsen.

In company with Justice of the Peace Baird of Morrison, Snyder drove to Fulton Friday. Late at night the two men started for home in their buggy. Arriving at the "deep hole," as the pool is called, they tied their horse and disrobed, intending to take a bath, the night having been hot and sultry. Snyder announced his intention of taking a dive, and suiting the action to his words, jumped head foremost into the depth of the lake. Mr. Baird stood on the bank, and was alarmed to observe that his companion did not reappear on the surface. The minutes passed, and the man did not arise, until the conviction was forced upon Mr. Baird that his friend had met with misfortune, and was drowned. Help was summoned, and efforts were made to find the man's body, but without avail. The search was continued Saturday morning. With the help of a seine the body was located at the bottom of the pool, fully 30 feet below the surface, and was taken to the bank.

Snyder was 45 years of age, and leaves his wife and six children. He has been a resident of Morrison for about ten years.

ORANGEVILLE "BUSTED"

No License Voto Has Cut Out Source of Revenues.

Warren Sentinel Leader: Orangeville, 20 miles east of Warren, heretofore a prosperous little city, is in a very unpleasant condition financially and otherwise. Until this year the town has been licensing two saloons at $750 each.

Last spring no-license carried and taxes were raised to the limit permitted by law. It became necessary to drill a second city well and install a new pump. This used up all available cash. No improving whatever has been done and now the water-works have been shut down for the past week, with no chance for being started again this year.

Many people use city water in their business places and homes, for engines, toilet purposes and the ordinary uses of such a convenience and necessity. Wells in various parts of town have become contaminated and citizens fear a general epidemic of disease. Insurance companies claim their policies would be void in case of destruction fire, as they were written with fire protection as a part of the agreement.

FIGHT NOW OUT OF COURT.

Another Victory for Sycamore in Court House Controversy.

The factional fight in DeKalb county between the cities of DeKalb and Sycamore was thrown out of the appellate court Thursday on the ground that the Cook county courts have no jurisdiction in the DeKalb county seat war. The fight has been long and bitter and DeKalb has done everything to thwart the building of the court house at Sycamore. Sycamore has won in every effort and this last decision of the appellate court is another victory. DeKalb in a last effort tried to get an injunction preventing the wrecking of the present courthouse. W. J. McAlpine of Dixon is building the new courthouse at Sycamore, the structure to cost about $100,000.

BODY IS IDENTIFIED

Son Recognized Body of John Newmann Who Took Carbolic Acid Near Lyons

SACKETT SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD

Mystery Surrounding Disappearance of Zeigler Is Also Unsolved

Staturday H. A. Newmann of Sioux City arrived at Lyons and identified the body of the suicide found there a few days ago as that of his father, John Newmann.

There is not the slightest doubt but what the identification is positive and Mr. Newmann will remove the remains to his home in Sioux City where they will be buried.

Mr. Newmann is under the impression that his father committed the rash deed which ended his life while temporarily mentally aberrated. He says that his father had been suffering from lung and heart disease for some time and that this fact always worried him considerably, he fearing that he would become an invalid. The mental strain and worry under which the deceased was laboring undoubtedly was the cause of the suicide. H. J. Newmann wishes to conceal the real facts of the case from his mother, as she would be seriously shocked if informed that her husband had taken his own life, the strain probably causing severe consequences.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL STILL MISSING.

A dispatch from Sterling with reference to Prof. George Sackett, principal of the high school of Erie, Whiteside county, who disappeared two weeks ago while camping along the Mississippi river: There is evidence of a struggle near his camp, and it is now believed that he was murdered and his body thrown in the Mississippi. He had with him a considerable sum of money. His wife and children went to the camp the next day and were unable to find him. His hat and coat have been found and letters which were in the coat were rifled.

STILL NO TRACE OF ZEIGLER.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Jacob L. Zeigler of Clinton has not been cleared. In fact, as the days pass and no trace of the missing man is found, his probable fate becomes more problematical. The family has offered a reward of one hundred dollars for its solution, and the search in the river has been continued untiringly, but has failed entirely of results. The failure to find the body keeps alive the hope that he may not have perished in the storm of July 3, on which day he disappeared, but the family have now but little hope of ever seeing him alive again.

ARREST ON STATE WARRANTS

John Hoy Released To Be Imprisoned For Graver Offense.

John Hoy of Mendota who has been serving out his fine during the past ten days in the county jail was released this morning. As soon as he was released he was arrested on a state warrant charged with giving liquor to minors. A hearing of the case was held this afternoon at four o'clock before E. D. Shaner, police justice. The decision had not been rendered before the paper went to press. The fine for an offense of this nature is not less than ten days and not more than thirty days in the county jail, or a fine not exceeding $100. The extreme penalty that is possible is to fine the offender $100 with the additional penalty of thirty days in jail. If the offender cannot pay the fine it would mean twenty more days in jail making fifty days in all. Hoy committed the offense on the Fourth of July in company with Frank Dillon also of Mendota who is in the county jail serving out a fine for twenty days. It is charged that they gave two small boys of the ages ten and twelve years enough liquor to make the two intoxicated.

WOODYATT MAKES HOME RUN

Saves Ottawa from Worse Defeat--Sterling Defeats Tampico.

The La Salle Eagles easily defeated the Ottawa Stars in a game at La Salle Sunday. Score 10 to 5 Bob Woodyatt, the pitcher for Ottawa, brought in two scores by a home run in the eighth inning.

The Sterling ball team won from Tampico Sunday by the score of 6 to 2.

Fair Attendance Is Large.

St. Louis, Mo., July 18.—Despite the rain of the early part of last week and the excessively warm weather that followed it, the attendance at the world's fair for the last seven days was more than 500,000 persons. There was not a special day for bringing the attendance up and the result is quite satisfactory to the world's fair management.

How to Use Coke Successfully.

To use coke successfully and to get the best results from it, the large lumps should be broken. There should be a good thickness of coke and it should be given a fair start with kindling and a fair draft, and by treating it in this way it will give a beautiful, clean and efficient fire.

It is cheaper, cleaner, and more efficient than either coal or wood

The County Lighting Company is now prepared to accept orders, to be filled for the next winter's supply, at 5.70 per ton, delivered.

Orders given now will be accepted for next fall and winter delivery at this price. If the price of coal advances the price of coke always advances with it, unless orders are given beforehand. The price of coal generally advances in the fall and winter.

WONDERFUL AND INTERESTING

A New Vaudeville Show by Clever Artists.

In speaking of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth it has been said by the papers of Europe that it is most wonderful and exceedingly interesting from every point. There is a veritable midway in the menagerie tent where male and female artists of all kinds and troupes of beautiful and interesting ladies exhibit some characteristic accomplishments, showing how they play upon odd kinds of musical instruments. A herd of giraffes, three herds of elephants and the smallest horse in the world will prove great animal attractions, while Cyclo, the Kinetic Demon, in his death-defying act, Anclottli looping the gap,
the wizard volitant Volo in a wild ride and flight, and Solo and Chico in a carrying act down a ladder
on one wheel, are amazing sensations. Two menageries of trains ed and wild beasts are an invariable source of interest to every one, with the many cages of rare and curious, quadrupeds, but in addition to these there are the dens of wild beasts who obey the word of an unarmed man and perform marvelous feats, and scores of rare animals not on exhibition anywhere else. The rings, three stages, a race-track, and an aerial enclave, are necessary to show the 100 acts of the circus, where there are as many as 300 different expert performers in all lines, and 16 champion bareback male and female riders. It is truly a marvelous show, and will be undivided on Monday, August 1st, with a new street parade, showing the great team of 40 horses and nursery rhymes, children's fables, and stories.

UNION LABOR ANTI-PARKER.

Rockford Organ Says He Represents Interests Foreign to Unionists.

That organized labor will not embrace Parkerism has been evident since the nomination of the Esopus mystery from remarks made by labor leaders. The current issue of the Union Record, the organ of the labor unions of this section, contains an editorial which is significant of the way organized labor regards Judge
Parker's candidacy. The Union
Record says:

"The Democratic party in convention in St. Louis last week nominated Alton B. Parker for president. Workingmen, especially the organized workers, had looked for something better and more to their interest from the party which always stood for the common people. That their interests will be taken care of should Mr. Parker be elected we have our doubts.
He represents an element entirely foreign to the workingman's welfare.
Wall street and the corporations whose candidate he unquestionably is,
will be the power behind the throne.
What the workingmen can hope to get from them we fail to see. There was a time when it could be rightfully said that the Democratic party did represent the great masses, but not so now. The workingmen had hoped to see Mr. Hearst the leader of Democracy. He would have come nearer being a man whose interests would have been those of the people. But the ring which controlled the convention did not like him; in fact the corporate interests feared him. His active work against the rich and in favor of humanity was not to their liking.
However, it remains to be seen whether or not the great mass of Democratic workingmen can consistently vote for Parker. It will depend much upon his attitude toward them when he consents to speak upon the issues now before the people, the greatest of which is the welfare of the workers."

—Rev. Newton was the guest recently of Colonel and Mrs. Mrs. Low-den at their Oregon country home.

—C. H. McKenney was here from Lanark Sunday and today visiting with his family on Hennepin avenue.

Colonel Hoofstiltler is going to reform Sterling of the drink evil. Evidently some of Pastor "Billy" Sunday's converts have been backslidin'.

Runaway Boy Found.

A runaway child mystery of over a year's duration was cleared up in Sterling, when a mother from DeKalb found her son who had left his home about fourteen months ago. The lad was found on a farm three miles east of Sterling, where he has been working the entire time since he left home, in company with his half brother. As a consequence a mother's heart is lightened of a heavy load and a mind that had begun to weaken under the heavy strain of an aching heart and constant worry will be restored. The boy's name is Earl Funkhouser and his home is in DeKalb.

Fireworks Set Off by Sun.

Bloomington, Ill., July 18.—Bloomington was treated to a belated Fourth of July celebration last night,
a quantity of fireworks owned by Paul Beich becoming ignited spontaneously as a result of the intense heat. The firemen were able to prevent the flames from spreading.

THE BODY OF THE SUN.

In Its Density It Resembles Somewhat a Globe of Tar.

It is generally agreed that the main body of the sun—the nucleus within the photosphere—must be purely gaseous. This seems to be an unavoidable conclusion from the sun's low mean density and its tremendous internal temperature, which must almost certainly be far higher than that of its outer surface, so high that even the enormous force of solar gravity is able to compress the vapors to a density only one and four-tenths that of water, although among the constituent elements are many of the metals (iron being the most conspicuous) which in the solid or liquid state are from three to eight times as dense. The reader must not imagine, however, that this gaseous nucleus is like air or other gases as we encounter them upon the earth. Denser than water and strongly viscous from the heat, it more resembles a globe of tar except near the outside. There the vapors relieved from pressure are free to expand and to cool both by the expansion and by radiating heat to outer space in a region of powerful currents, ascending, descending and cyclonic.

The photosphere or luminous surface is generally believed to be what it looks like—a sheet of clouds enveloping the nucleus and consisting of minute drops and crystals formed from those vapors which condense at the highest temperatures. These clouds float in an atmosphere composed of the permanent gases like hydrogen and helium mixed with the more numerous vapors which condense only at far lower temperatures than those that form the clouds. As to the substances which compose the cloud particles, opinions are unsettled.—Professor C. A. Young in Harper's Weekly.

THE COOKBOOK.

Salt in the oven under baking tins will prevent pastry scorching on the bottom.

If it is desired to keep cakes moist put them in a stone jar. If crisp cakes are preferred use tin as a receptacle.

When weighing molasses sprinkle the scale well with flour, and then it will slip off again quite easily without sticking.

The best way to mash potatoes is to rub them through a wire sieve. You can then be sure there are no lumps left.

For luncheon or supper serve the bread and butter in the form of sandwiches. Cut the bread thin and remove part of the crust. Cut in strips after buttering or in rounds with a biscuit cutter.

By cutting old potatoes into very small balls, allowing them to soak for three or four hours in cold water, then boiling in cold salted water and serving with cream sauce, a very good substitute for new potatoes is obtained.

A Game of Catch.

Somebody once twitted John Graham on the way David Dudley Field and he were drifting apart—he remaining in the harness as a criminal lawyer, while Field was selected by his state for the exalted duty of codifying her laws.

"It is simply a game of catch between Field and myself," he answered. "He tries to put up as many bars as possible, all uniformly strong. Then I go around and try them and see how many weak places I can find."

"Which beats, Mr. Graham?" he was asked.

"Oh, I think I do in the long run," he responded. "Field never succeeded in keeping me out as many times as I have succeeded in breaking in."

East Indian Names.

Mercantile clerks with many letters to write to India tradesfolk are to be pitied. The following, picked at random from the books of a London firm doing business in India, are not at all bad specimens of the general run of names throughout the empire: Jogavajala Seethasamachendrudu, Manthri Pragada Suryanarayana, Vangar Patthangy Vijayaraghavachariar, Conjeeveram Muttukumaraswamy Mudliar, Poonamalle Shunmugasundaram Mudliar, Keduramangalam Subramanist Chidembera Iyer, Peruvayal Coomaleeswarenpettah Rajarathna Moodliar.

Trapped in Armor.

Trying on ancient armor is not always an agreeable experiment, judging from the experience of a French artist. He had bought a quaint old helmet and put it on his own head to judge the effect. Unfortunately he touched a spring, the visor shut down suddenly, and, being alone in the studio, he could not free himself from the mediaeval head covering without help. At last he ran into the street, where his appearance created considerable amusement till a charitable passerby managed to set him free.—Hour Glass.

An Odd Globe.

A great globe ornamented with the map of the earth carved in stone decorates the estate of an eccentric Englishman at Swanage. It stands overlooking the sea and is visible for quite a distance. One may walk about it and study it in detail. The plain surfaces, such as the oceans, lakes and deserts, are decorated with Scriptural texts, which are supposed to apply especially to the locality they occupy.

OUT OF WORK.

Tragedy of Unemployment to the Man Who Is Aging.

The tragedy of unemployment deepens in the case of those men who are visibly aging, passing prematurely into that condition when society has neither use nor regard for their services. The development of the modern city life in its feverish thirst for gain sucks up the activities of the young. Work can always be found for the children. But the man of forty has already become suspect. At fifty there is evidently stretching before him the bleak old age of the unwanted poor. The despairing clutch of the aging at any degrading occupation which before they would have scorned is one of the commonest and pitifullest sights of modern life. I think of those whom I have known, those who dye their hair to keep the appearance of youth, the applicants for positions, their efforts toward respectability, the ink lined coat, the shabbiness concealed, the attempt, always so grotesque and ineffective, to strike the right note between a dignity that will command respect and an eagerness that will become a mere mendicant pleading for aid.

I remember one with a record of over thirty years' consistent service, exhibiting hands twisted and gnarled with disease, who shuffles daily through his work with the help of kindly comrades, fearing each day to be detected. Though the work itself is an agony, the one panic fear is not that he shall be compelled but that he shall be forbidden to continue. I think of others tucked away out of sight in the recesses of tenement dwellings, flung aside from the active machinery of the world, who "cannot quite bring themselves" to join the unemployed processions or solicit a promiscuous charity of the crowd, who cling to the desperate hope that one day the cloud will lighten, the miracle happen that some one will be found desiring their services. This is in no austere and frugal community, with difficulty supporting its children, but amid wealth pouring into its borders beyond the dreams of avarice and such luxury and vain display as can only be paralleled in the later days of Rome.—Independent Review.

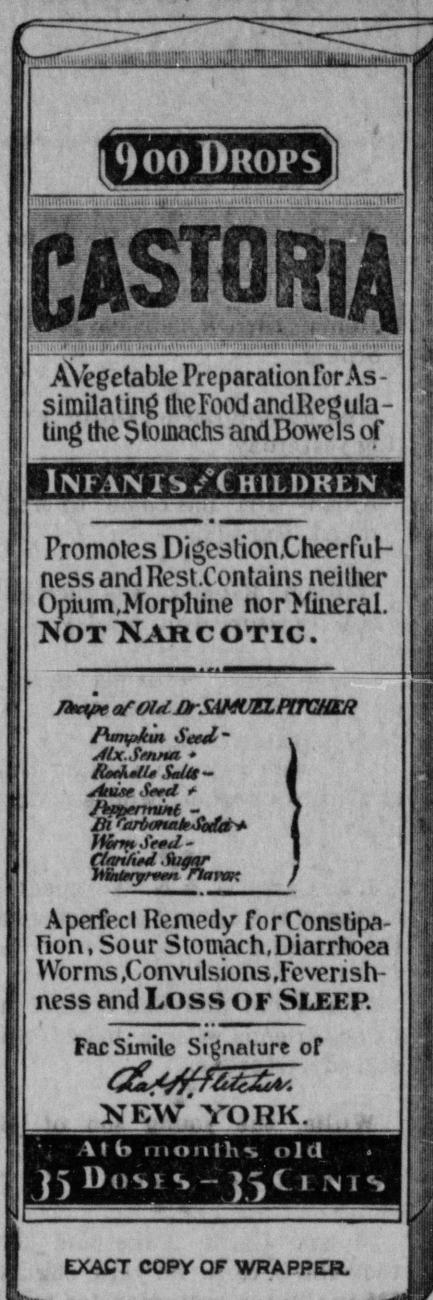

A Case of Necessity.

"My son," said the parson to a small boy who was digging, "don't you know that it is a sin to dig on Sunday except in case of necessity?"

"Yes, sir," replied the youngster.

"Then why don't you stop it?" asked the good man.

"Cause this is a case of necessity," replied the young philosopher. "A feller can't fish without bait."—Pearson's Weekly.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over four years I was troubled with a kidney and bladder affection. I lost flesh and was unable to work. Three physicians failed to help me and I was given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

PROF. GLADE,

Fortune Telling

By cards, tea leaves, and those who make guesses, or by those uneducated in Psychic Science is perhaps amusing and entertaining, but it avails you nothing. When you want to know the truth regarding your

Past, Present and Future

...YOU MUST...

Consult a Clairvoyant.

This medium if not a clairvoyant from choice, but because fate has so decreed it. This Gifted Clairvoyant has received the rich inheritance together with combined knowledge and priceless experience of generations; appreciating the fact that many of the best citizens are only too anxious to consult a good, honest, reliable medium if they felt positive that in spending their money they would receive full value in return, therefore I make the following fair proposition as a matter of advertisement. For the benefit of those who do not feel able to consult me at my regular fee, I will for a short time make the following reduction fee to all who bring this card:

Readings 50c and $1.00

I do hereby solemnly guarantee and agree to make you NO CHARGE IN ADVANCE, but will first give you a complete reading, telling your name, names of Friends, Enemies, Rivals, Sweethearts, who and when you will marry, whether Husband, Wife or Sweetheart is True or False.

I Tell You the Bad as Well as the Good

Keeping nothing hidden from you. Give advice on all points of interest such as Love, Courtship, Marriage, Divorce, Business and Transactions of All Kinds; in fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, come to me and find help. I have helped others, why not you? And if I fail to faithfully fulfill every word of this advertisement, and if you are not absolutely satisfied after reading, is entirely over, then pay not one penny. Is not this honest? Could anything be more fair.
